The Road-

Two roads diverged in a wood, and I-

I took the one less traveled by,

And that has made all the difference.

—Robert Frost

Fulfillment in life can never be reached by making wrong decisions, by choosing the wrong roads. Christ stressed this when He said, "wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction." Only through heeding the admonition to "enter ye in at the strait gate" and through following Christ, the Way, the Truth, and the Light can we find this true fulfillment.

With these thoughts in mind, the annual staff has chosen the road as the theme for our 1964 Lighthouse. We are proud to present the road our student body has traveled this year.

Linda Knutsen, Editor

Dedication

To Mrs. Pulliam teaching is not merely a profession. It is her life. She always devotes herself whole-heartedly to whatever she does whether it be directing the songs sung in chapel, rehearsing her choirs, giving a voice lesson, or presenting the morning devotion.

Mrs. Pulliam has become a favorite on campus because she has the ability to see situations from a student's point of view. Although she has a very heavy schedule, she is never too busy to offer her help for school activities or her encouragement to individual students. This is the Mrs. Pulliam we have come to know and love.

Mrs. Pulliam, in order to express our gratitude for the work you've done, the time you've spent, and the love you've given, we, as your students, are happy to dedicate this Lighthouse to you.

Guides Along the Way

As our guides, the faculty have helped us to prepare for a life of service and have challenged us to direct this service into Christ-oriented pathways.

The staff of the 1964 Lighthouse is to be congratulated for an excellent year-book. The path they chose was not an easy one, but the end was rewarding. You are enjoying the result of their journey.

Some day in the near future, if we are faithful, each of us will be enjoying the results of traveling a road that was guided by the Light of Life. As you reflect upon the happenings of this past year, I hope you can say that you have chosen a path that will lead to the ultimate goal of all Christians—the kingdom of God.

A. T. Wiegardt,
Principal

Some people look forward to the time when their educational journey will be over. But in this generation knowledge is increasing so rapidly, that to maintain sufficient knowledge to feel literate, one must constantly be learning. There is no end of knowledge in sight. Each new discovery only brings to light myriads of unanswered problems.

So there is really no end to education in the journey of life. And those who really want to live life to its fullest will look beyond the highway of this existence to life hereafter where one can spend eternity probing the secrets of the universe.

Senior Memories

Aim: To make tomorrow better as a result of today

Motto: Today's fulfillment was yesterday's dream

Colors: Turquoise and white

Flowers: White gladiolas and aqua carnations

Few years are as important as the senior year in high school. It is a time to look back and see how profitable the years spent in school have been and to remember old friends and good times. It is also a period of looking ahead and planning for the future. But the senior year is more than a time of thinking about the past and the future. It is a year of hard work, much activity, and important decisions. As the class of '64 graduate, they, like the classes that have gone before and those that are yet to come, will take with them the education they have received and the fond memories . . . choosing their sponsors, Mrs. Adamson and Mr. Duran . . . electing their officers . . . the early morning breakfasts . . . naming Richard Lee Duran . . . selecting their robes and invitations . . . the lovely banquet at the Bali Hai given them by the juniors . . . their special clash and hat days . . . senior testing and counseling . . . selecting their consecration, baccalaureate, and commencement speakers: Mr. Duran, Elder Blacker, and Elder Wyman . . . their weekend camping trip at Angeles National Forest . . . and graduation.

Even more than their class activities, the seniors will remember all the friends they have made among the freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes. And in a special way, they will remember the friends in their own class . . .

Tony Anderson—a fine mathematical mind has in no way hampered his ability in the field of sports

Lorraine Anderson—sensitive and sentimental, Lori has a weakness for anything of beauty

Gloria Berry—a pretty and efficient worker who knows any job worth doing is worth doing well

Bill Bliss—behind his very cheery smile lies a head full of serious thoughts and opinions

Ed Cartwright—the newest member of our class, whose hard-working ways team up with a love of sports to make him a very popular guy

Judyjeanne Case—a vivacious bundle of enthusiasm with the ability to give entertaining readings, Judyjeanne proves the adage, "Good things come in small packages"

Barbara Chase—The girl with the bubbling smile and personality who is so easy to talk to and to like

Eleanor Chudleigh—a quiet girl who enjoys the out-of-doors, Eleanor finds enjoyment in joining the crowd in the fun and activity

Madeline Coon—reserved and well-organized, Madeline has her time and her school work well planned

Lana Detlor—her ability to get any job done promptly and well has made her one of the busiest people on campus

Dick Duerkson—intelligent and talented, Dick's ability to excel in whatever he does has made him a real asset to the class

Gary Ferguson—never much for words, Gary likes nothing better than to spend time reading a good book

John Fowler—impressive in size and warm at heart, our class cut-up always has time for a good joke

Ray Giddings—although well known for his humorous and unusual class antics, he will be remembered most for his ability as a folk singer.

Louise Head—a happy-go-lucky spirit and a warm consideration for others are all a part of Lou's special charm

Phyllis Hefner—an outstanding singing voice has not only further developed Phyl's taste for the artistic, but it has also made her an extremely sought-after person

Sissy Jackson—a real delight to her many friends, Sis and her madcap sense of humor can always be found in the midst of fun

Sharon Johnson—a blond who is fun to have around because she never lets any situation go by without finding the humor in it

Craig Kendall—conscientious and personable, Craig remains a pool of calmness in our turbulent class

Jim King—a good discussion needs people with well-founded opinions; Jimmy is just such a person

Shirley Knorr—a very sweet girl who radiates beauty and charm

Linda Knutsen—a leader socially and intellectually, this energetic redhead can always liven up any conversation or situation

Lucrecia Neuman—friendliness has many forms and Lucrecia knows most of them, including the help she gives students with their Spanish assignments

Fred Oster—his interesting remarks and ability to logically discuss any side of a question has perked up many a discussion both in and out of class

Terry Paxton—known for his mastery of witty remarks, a trait which makes no class dull, Terry is also known for his mastery of the rough surf

Sharlene Porter—bright and athletic, Sharlene gets more out of life because she always puts herself completely into whatever she does

Pat Pressler—a very fun-loving and high-spirited girl with a knack for discussing her side of any question in a very persuasive manner

Gary Pulliam—easy-going and agreeable, Gary is always willing to join his classmates in their work and fun

Lula Purdy—courtesy and efficiency are a result of Lu's composed manner

Edward Rotan—drive and determination, a winning combination, make Ed a standout on the P.E. field

Jim Sanderson—knowing that perserverance makes any task easier, Jimmy has always tried to do his best in whatever he does

Buddy Steen—with his good nature and sensitive discernment of what is right, it's easy to see why our class president is liked and respected by everyone

Mary Van Pelt—her sincere smile and her kind word for everyone have gone a long way in making friends for Mary

Bobby Villaneuva—a real class favorite for, among other things, his willingness to share his varied talents which include playing five instruments

Jackie West—she simply likes people, which is a very good reason why people simply like her

Bonnie Yelverton—a well-liked and pretty girl who knows that taking life seriously also includes making the very most of it

Activities on the Way

In order to mold ourselves as total individuals, we channel our energies into various activities. These diversionary stops along the way are among the happier moments of our academy days.

Religious Activities

On campus a student may be drawn closer to God in many ways. It may be in prayer bands, in Bible class, or in chapel. It might also be the result of listening to a week of prayer, working on a missionary project, or perhaps attending Bible Conference. Our only prayer is that even more students might be drawn closer to God as a result of these religious activities.

Our 1963-1964 social year has indeed been a memorable one. On the next few pages some of the more important activities of the ASB, the classes, the temperance club, and the surfing club are shown. It is unfortunate that all of the social events cannot be pictured. If they were, however, there would be room for little else.

Tribute to Mr. James

During the past nine years, Mr. James has passed nearly 500 students from the elementary into the academy. These students will always remember his class as one of the highlights of their grade-school days. His ability to understand student problems and enjoy student activities has made him a valuable counselor and a great asset to the faculty.

This year Mr. James is retiring and bringing his highly productive twenty-nine years of teaching to an end. Although he may travel far from our city, his memory will always be deeply imbedded in the hearts of his students, and his influence will travel with them wherever they go.

Special thanks go to both our private and commercial sponsors.

Without their support, it would be impossible to present this annual.

The Completed Journey

In this 1964 Lighthouse it is possible to obtain only a glimpse of the many and varied phases of our school life. Many aspects—the support of the Seventh-day Adventist believers, the dedication of the teachers, and the devotion of our parents—are impossible to convey. But it is possible to picture the students' enjoyment of what the combined efforts of these three have produced, a school whose purpose is the education of young people for a more useful and meaningful life, a Christian life.

The road we as a student body have chosen to travel this year has been a good one—one filled with studies and activities, events not easily forgotten, and friendships long to be cherished. These in turn have helped us determine to travel life's great highway more faithfully. Our hope as a student body is that one day soon we will find our journey completed and our reward in the kingdom of heaven.
